FRICK PREPARING TO BUILD MANSION

His Fifth Avenue Residence
Will Cost More Than $5,000,000.

TO OCCUPY ENTIRE BLOCK

It Will Be Second Most Costly
and Magnificent Home in New York.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, January 4.—Henry Clay Frick's new home on Fifth Avenue, taking in the entire block between Seventeenth and Seventy-first Streets, on the site of the old Lenox Library, will be the second most costly and most magnificent of any in the city. The cost of the building will approximate $3,000,000; the land has cost $2,400,000 to acquire, so the entire expense of putting up a home for Mr. Frick will be well over $5,000,000. It will cover a plot 200 by 175 feet.

Work on the new house will be started this spring and the contracts will call for the completion of the building within a year and a half.

The residence of Senator Clark, at Fifth Avenue and Seventy-seventh Street, is the only private dwelling in the city which cost more than the Frick home. It was built at an expense of between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000. The new Frick residence will not be a gaudy show affair. It will be a long and low structure, simple in details. The art gallery will be north of the house, facing on Fifth Avenue. The principal entrance to both the gallery and home will be from Fifth Avenue. The exterior of the house will be in the Italian renaissance style.

The dining room will be at the southwest corner of the building, behind the drawing room, and will look out upon a large fountain and sunken gardens. A wide corridor will connect the library and the drawing room.

The art gallery will not be as high as the main building, and will be about 100 by 35 feet. It will be one and one-half stories high. This building will contain Mr. Frick's valuable collection of art treasures, in which are some of the rarest and most valuable pieces in the world.

One of the features of the sunken garden, which will be close to Fifth Avenue, shut off from the curious of the stone garden wall, will be a pool, sixty feet long and fifteen feet wide. This will be in the center of the garden and at its south end will be a large fountain.

Andrew Carnegie and Charles M. Schwab are the only persons who have homes in New York on larger lots than Mr. Frick.

ROUSE ATTEMPTS TO BRAIN HIMSELF

Smithfield Merchant Seriously Injured by Self-Inflicted Wound.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Smithfield, Va., January 4.—George P. Rouse, the Smithfield merchant who confessed to having fired the town several weeks ago, and who was caught applying the torch to another building a week later, is confined to his bed in his cell in Isle of Wight jail with a five-inch scalp wound, self-inflicted. Rouse was found in a pool of blood, and on the wall of the jail was blood and matted hair, where the prisoner had evidently butted his head in an attempt to brain himself. The wound was treated by Dr. R. L. Seward, of Isle of Wight, Rouse, who seriously injured, will probably recover.
